

Dr. Akhtar Purvez is now seeing patients at the Pain and Spine Center of Charlottesville.

He is a highly qualified and experienced interventional pain physician who trained in Head & Neck Surgery in India, in Anesthesiology at Boston University and in Pain Medicine at the University of Virginia.

Dr. Purvez is certified by the American Board of Pain Medicine, the American Board of Anesthesiology in Pain Medicine, and the American Board of Disability Analysts.

He has been involved with training physician assistants, medical students, residents, fellows and other physicians. He was Adjunct Clinical Professor at Lincoln Memorial University, TN and writes, lectures and speaks on radio and TV about pain related issues. He supports pain advocacy, pain policy, training and research.

His new self-help book on pain is under publication.

Awarded for his bed side manners and rated high at physician review sites, he has been the recipient of many awards including the following*

Patient's Choice Award (2103-14)

Compassionate Doctor Recognition (2013)

Top 10 Doctor - State (2014)

Virginia

Pain Medicine

Top 10 Doctor- Metro Area (2014)

Washington Metro Area

Pain Medicine

Dr. Purvez believes in partnering up with his patients and their families to come up with, and follow up on, a multi-modality treatment plan for a wide variety of chronic pain conditions.

His special interests, among others, include chronic upper and lower back pain, shingles pain, RSD/CRPS, radiculopathy, neuropathy, occipital neuralgia and other headaches, chronic pelvic and abdominal pain and fibromyalgia.

If you are suffering from chronic pain, you have the right to fight it.

Call us today at 434.328.2774 to make an appointment to discuss what options may be right for you to help you get back your function, and life back.

*http://www.vitals.com/doctors/Dr_Akhtar_Purvez.html#ixzz3nBjuAP00